

AFRIL

The project is based in Lewisham in London and is supported by Blackheath Quaker Meeting.

The project provides information and support to refugees, asylum seekers and vulnerable migrants, who have had to flee from war and conflict in their home countries, helping them establish a sustainable social and economic position in their new home.

The QPSW Relief grant is being used to cover the cost of a private room for the advice service, providing clients with a confidential environment in which to discuss their needs,

The project has continued to run its dedicated advice sessions on Thursdays and Friday, providing advice to 90 people over the year.
